

Regarding attendance and scoring for the seminar course

※ Notes for Attendance :

- A. Classes are scheduled to be held in either the EC6019 (Department of Electrical Engineering), EC2002 (Institute of Communications Engineering) or EC1001 (Institute of IC Design) of the Building of Electrical Engineering, please refer to the weekly announcements.
- B. Most seminars in the department are conducted in Chinese. If there are any sessions held in English, please prioritize those first, especially those organized by the Department of Electrical Engineering, the Institute of Communications Engineering, the Institute of IC Design, and IMEPE. The number of sessions in each field is limited. Attending seminars across different fields can broaden your horizons and provide valuable insights for your research, even if the topics are outside your specialization. If you are still unable to meet the attendance requirement after attending available English sessions in person, you may watch pre-recorded online seminars. However, these online sessions must be closely related to your research field.
- C. If you are attending an in-person lecture, please do not wear tank tops or flip-flops as a sign of respect for the speaker, and avoid entering late to ensure the smooth progress of the seminar.

※ Scoring :

Item A: Every student must attend at least six seminars within one semester and handwrite a feedback report for each. Report sheets can be obtained from the departmental office.

Unless otherwise specified when submitting your reports, the first six reports will be scored according to Item B, and up to five additional reports will be scored according to Item C. If you attend an in-person seminar, it will be prioritized for scoring under Item B before any online seminar.

Item B:

For each seminar attended and corresponding report submitted, you will receive 10 points for attendance and 0–7 points for the report (The report score consists of 4 points for content and 3 points for the word count in English).

- ✧ The following situations will receive zero points: completely blank reports, written by another person, copied articles from the Internet, complete copy of the speaker's slides, copying reports from other students, content completely unrelated to the speech, Report not submitted by 17:00 on the same day of the seminar.
- ✧ English word count scoring (including punctuation):
 - ✓ 0 points : fewer than 60 words
 - ✓ 1 points : 61-80 words
 - ✓ 2 points : 81-100 words
 - ✓ 3 points : 101 words or more

Item C:

If you attend more than six seminars, you may earn 1 point for attendance and 0–7 points for the report for each additional seminar, up to a maximum of five extra seminars. If more than five extra reports are submitted, only the first five additional seminars will be counted.

Item D:

- ✧ If you attend an in-person seminar, please submit your handwritten report to the TA in the classroom after the seminar. You can collect your report sheet from the departmental office before your next seminar.
- ✧ If you attend online seminars during the semester, you may prepare the reports in advance and submit them to the departmental office the next time you attend an in-person seminar.
- ✧ The final submission deadline is by the end of Week 16 of the semester. Please make sure your handwriting is clear and legible.
